Competition barefooting began in Linz, where the first step of the 1978 European Challenge series was organized. Peter and Elfrieda Pflügl were known as the Austrian pioneer of the sport.

Peter won the 1978 and 1979 Challenge series, as Elfrieda won the 1979 women division. They entered the first World barefoot Championships in Canberra during November 1978 and finished at the 8th place in teams overall.

Peter Pflügl

Peter Pflügl was the first European record holder in tricks with 1440 points in 1980, when the first records were established. This same year, he won the tricks event at the European championships.

The first Austrian championships were organised in 1982 and the first winner was Seppi Kaisergrüber, well known for his handle-bar moustaches. Austria organised its second international event in 1985 with the European Championships. Due to very bad weather, the jump event was not held and the overall calculation was made only with slalom and tricks...

In 1987 and 1988 famous footer from Holland Robert Teurezbacher who lived in Florida, decided to ski for his mother country and won the tricks event at the 1991 senior trophy in Pölich.

Robert Teurezbacher

After 1986, Walsee Wassersport Zentrum managed by Georg Wimmer was a regular stop of the European Challenge and Grand Prix series. In year 2000, Wallsee hosted the first combined European junior and open championships and during summer 2002, open World Championships !

In 2003, Georg Wimmer Jr, won the gold in slalom at World junior Championships after some European titles in junior division. He won also the 2004 European Grand Prix series in division I, when the second was David Small and the third André de Villiers from South Africa...

Wallsee hosted again 2004, 2009, 2014 & 2023 Region EA open championships and 2018 Region EA junior championships.

Wallsee Wassersport Zentrum

Meanwhile, Stefan Wimmer, the other son of Georg, won his first gold medal during 2011 EA championships in the jump event. Then, he won four overall EA crowns in 2012, 2013, 2014 & 2023. At last, young Peter Reitbauer won the jump event in 2017 Region EA junior championships.
